

About the Pennsylvania Firefly Assessment

The Firefly Student Progress Indicators are online benchmark tests designed to show a student's learning needs and mastery of content at the time the test is administered. Firefly test results predict how a student will perform on the PSSA or Keystone Exams. Schools can use them to measure student progress and guide instruction throughout the school year.

Mathematics Progress

Predicted PSSA Mathematics Performance

The graphic displays the student's percent chance of earning each performance level on the spring PSSA. Based on this student's latest Firefly score, the student will most likely earn an Advanced performance level on PSSA Mathematics in the spring assuming the student maintains the same course of learning.

Understanding your student's score

This report provides information about your student's recent performance on the Firefly assessment. It includes results from a single test session and will include progress within the year if your student has taken the assessment more than once. The Firefly scores have been used to predict a score range of how your student may perform on the PSSA or Keystone Exams. Additional information to help you interpret this report is available at pa.gov.
