

About the Pennsylvania Firefly Assessment

The Firefly Student Progress Indicators are online benchmark tests designed to show a student's learning needs and mastery of content at the time the test is administered. Firefly test results predict how a student will perform on the PSSA or Keystone Exams. Schools can use them to measure student progress and guide instruction throughout the school year.

Name: SAMPLE STUDENT
PA Student ID: 3067671074
Birth Date: 09/06/11

Student Grade: 8
Tested Date: 10/06/25

School: SAMPLE SCHOOL 1
District: SAMPLE DISTRICT

Science Score

525

Support Needed

Student needs support to gain the required skills for success on future state assessments.

Near Target

Student is likely at (or near) the level of skill needed for success on future state assessments.

Prepared

Student is likely prepared for success on future state assessments.

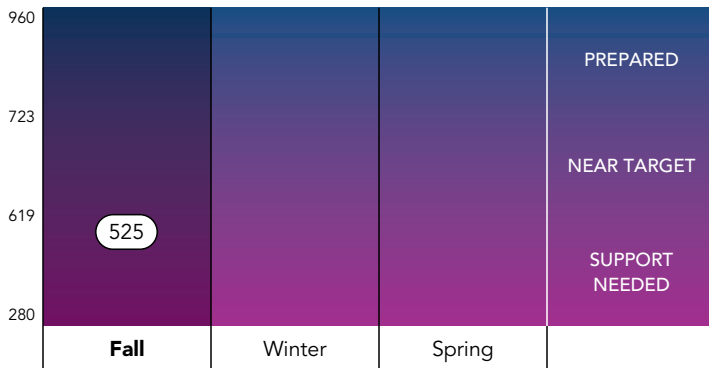

The student's Science scale score is indicated by a: ○

If this student were to test again under similar circumstances, the student's score would likely range from 498 – 552

Science Performance By Reporting Category

Categories	Support Needed	Near Target	Prepared	Student's Score Range
Life Science and ELS	489			431 – 547
Physical Science	527			473 – 581
Earth and Space Science	518			464 – 572
Technology & Engineering	565			511 – 619

Science Progress

Predicted PSSA Science Performance

Predicted student performance on the Science spring summative assessments will be reported beginning with the 2026-2027 Science Firefly administration. This field is intentionally blank for the 2025-2026 Science Firefly administration.

Understanding your student's score

This report provides information about your student's recent performance on the Firefly assessment. It includes results from a single test session and will include progress within the year if your student has taken the assessment more than once. The Firefly scores have been used to predict a score range of how your student may perform on the PSSA or Keystone Exams. Additional information to help you interpret this report is available at pa.gov.