

Fishing License Special Exemption Application

Pennsylvania law provides for an exemption to fishing license requirements for participants ages 16 and older taking part in qualifying angler education, aquatic field study or a therapeutic program. The exemption does not apply to the instructor(s). Instructors and participants must abide by seasons, sizes, creel limits and other regulations which are listed in the Summary Book of PA Fishing Regulations & Laws.

Angler education programs which include hands-on fishing experiences are eligible if the program includes instruction in fishing and related skills and the time spent on that instruction makes up at least 30% of the total program length.

Aquatic field study in which aquatic organism collection occurs may also be eligible. This includes stream or lake studies, water quality testing or other related activities.

Therapeutic recreation programs where the goal is to promote psychological and physical health, recovery, and overall well-being may be eligible. Program examples include physical therapy, rehabilitation, intellectual and developmental disability, veteran, substance use prevention/recovery, and detention prevention programs.

Submit completed application to RA-FB-FISHBOATPERMIT@pa.gov.
