

BACKGROUND

Lancaster County, Pennsylvania is an urban county with a total combined population of over 1.62 million people (800,000 males and 830,000 females) from 2016-2018. During those three years, Lancaster County had 185 suicide deaths (140 males and 45 females) at a rate of 11.4 suicide deaths per 100,000 people. The Pennsylvania Violent Death Reporting System (PAVDRS) worked closely with the Bureau of Health Statistics and Registries, the Lancaster County Coroner’s Office, and Lancaster County law enforcement to gather detailed information about each violent death. Below are some results of those collaborations.

In Lancaster County, approximately 5 suicide deaths occurred every month.

Characteristics of Suicide Victims

Sex of Victims:

- In Lancaster County, males were 3 times more likely to die by suicide than females.
- Lancaster females, aged 70-79, were over 2 times more likely to die by suicide than Pennsylvania females, ages 70-79.
- Overall, suicide rates in Lancaster County were lower than the state average:
Lancaster Rates: 11.4 deaths per 100,000 residents (males 17.6 and females 5.4).
Pennsylvania Rates: 13.9 deaths per 100,000 residents (males 21.9 and females 6.2).

The PAVDRS program is a state level surveillance system funded and overseen by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). It is part of the larger National Violent Death Reporting System (NVDRS). There is a Violent Death Reporting System in all 50 states and some US territories. The PAVDRS program collects data on suicides, homicides, deaths of undetermined intent, and accidental firearm deaths. The program is required to collect data directly from death certificates, coroners/medical examiners, and law enforcement. These sources contribute to a comprehensive understanding of each violent death. The program tries to understand what was happening in the victim’s life leading up to their death. PAVDRS/NVDRS data is used for research, policymaking, and, ultimately, to develop violence prevention programs and strategies that will enhance community safety. For more information about the PAVDRS program, please call 717-787-5900 or email RA-DHPAVDRS@pa.gov
