Issued April 2025

Recommendations for Additional Documentation & Research Baseline Survey, 2020-2024

Introduction

PA SHPO began the Pennsylvania Baseline Survey in 2020 to document historic places across Pennsylvania. Over 20,800 places across 55 counties were added to the Pennsylvania Inventory of Historic Places in PA-SHARE as a result of baseline survey during 2020-2024.

The preservation consultants contracted to complete baseline survey projects between 2020 and 2024 provided over 1,500 suggestions as part of their final contract reports. Recommendations were organized into four general categories:

- Areas for future identification-level/baseline survey
- Resources/areas recommended for evaluation-level survey or further research
- Potential historic districts
- Potential archaeological sites, based on research and/or surficial archaeological evidence.

PA SHPO will use these recommendations to inform future priorities for proactive survey and National Register of Historic Places projects.

About this Document

This document includes almost 1,000 recommendations for additional documentation and research:

- The recommendations are organized by county and municipality. See the Table of Contents for links to each county. If a county is not listed, it was not surveyed between 2020 and 2024 as part of baseline survey.
- Recommendations for further archaeological survey and residential properties that included addresses have been omitted.
- Resource names and areas were taken directly from consultant reports. This terminology may reflect current names, historic names, or local vernacular. In some instances, consultants provided additional information like addresses, latitude/longitude points, or historical references.
- The type of recommendation indicates the nature of the consultant's recommendation:
 - Baseline: Location(s) identified during research or field survey but were not included in baseline survey scopes of work.
 - Research: Location(s) documented as part of baseline survey that may benefit from further research and documentation.
 - Potential historic district: Areas noted during research and/or field survey as potential historic districts because of shared characteristics and history.
