The Pennsylvania State Police in Warren would like to remind the public about the dangers of driving while impaired with alcohol or drugs. This problem continues to persist, causing needless deaths every year. We would like to tell everyone that if you plan on drinking alcohol, designate a sober driver. We would like to also caution about the use of legal and illegal drugs. Even the use of prescription drugs can also render an operator incapable of safe vehicle operation.

To combat the problem of impaired operators, the State Police will be conducting a sobriety checkpoint sometime over the weekend of November 27th–November 29th, 2026, to deter driving under the influence infractions. Please keep yourself and others safe, don't drink and drive.
